LEARN ALL ABOUT THE CULTURE OF CHINESE LANTERNS.

The traditional art of lanterns dates from the Tang Dynasty, between the seventh and tenth centuries.

This ancient custom arose in the city of Zigong, Sichuan province, home of the sixty-four metalworkers, painters, and costume makers who created the Blagnac edition. Zigong, the "City of Lanterns," boasts a long history and rich culture. The province of Sichuan has another particularity – the world's largest concentration of Jurassic-era dinosaur fossils. This year, in Blagnac, these giant creatures come to life to dazzle you with their imposing size in an enormous, breathtaking setting.

The forty-five painted sets, each more impressive than the last, promise an special moment to share with friends and family.
